Sampler.

4. Discussion:

The undersigned informed [] that their final reports on the Telephone Information Sampler must be more complete than the one submitted. [] was asked to write (1) a summary of what was accomplished by them on the project, and, (2) a conclusion giving results of the project and their recommendations for future work, if any.

[] was informed that their final payment has been held up, pending deliverance of a satisfactory final report.

[] stated that the Information Sampler could be used as a scrambler on a short range transmitter, with a few modifications. This system would be one of privacy, not secrecy. The undersigned was left with the impression that even though [] was the designer of the equipment, he had no further interest in it, and would be glad to wash his hands of it.

the use of the Information Sampler would be arranged. He stated
